To our extended Elite Family:

Today, we announce exciting news: Elite Roofing Supply is opening its 25th branch in Cartersville, Georgia! Located roughly 40 miles northwest from downtown Atlanta, this will be Elite's second Atlanta-area branch. This branch is situated to serve the northwest corner of Georgia, stretching to the Alabama and Tennessee border. Under the leadership of Brian McGrew as Managing Partner and Doug Norman as Regional Vice President, Cartersville's branch doors will officially open in mid-summer.

McGrew is currently the Managing Partner of the Elite Norcross, GA location and will be passing the torch to Tony Ramos as the new Managing Partner. Ramos is currently serving as the Operations Manager of the Norcross location. "We are so fortunate to have Tony on our team to head up operation of the Atlanta flagship store. The level of demand in this area is such that we need an additional location to better serve our customers in Atlanta and the surrounding areas," said McGrew.

Tony Ramos has 4 years of distribution experience and a degree in Computational Science in Business. A DC native, Tony was raised in Maryland and has no plans to move back north. He loves Atlanta and the southern experience.

"Our Atlanta team is eager to serve," Regional Vice President, Doug Norman, notes. "They're committed to providing the Atlanta market with remarkable customer service and increased accessibility. This new location will help us realize our goals."
